GOOGLE DEVELOPER GROUPS CHANDIGARH (GDG CHANDIGARH) is a young community of developers with the motive by the developers for the developers and from developer. In short its a community of developers who are interested in Google's developer technologies from the Android, Chrome, Drive, and Google Cloud platforms, to product APIs like the Cast API, Maps API, YouTube API and Many more.

When you join Google Developer Groups Chandigarh, you'll get ample opportunities not only to meet the local developers with similar interests in technology but also to share your interest/experience with fellow community folks. Our events include talks and hands on workshops on wide range of technical topics where you can learn new skills. The community prides itself on providing an inclusive environment where all the community members from beginner developers to experienced professionals come together to help each other.

TECHNOLOGIES TO BE FOCUSED

This event is all about embracing the latest advancements in technology and exploring the tools and frameworks that are shaping the future of development

At sessions that span from the technical to the visionary, let's celebrate and discover what the technologies can enable: how product innovation, open source, and ML and AI can propel enterprises forward and solve the big problems that impact all of us.

```
class MyApp extends StatelessWidget {
  const MyApp({Key? key}) : super(key: key);

  @override
  Widget build(BuildContext context) {
    // ...

    Column(
      mainAxisAlignment: MainAxisAlignment.spaceEvenly, children:
        [
          Text('Hello, world!'),
          Text('Flutter is awesome!'),
        ],
    ),
  ),
);
```
